Tow Truck Hit By Car

A collision on Highway 503, four miles east of Norland, at 4:45 p.m. on Monday resulted in approximately $1,200 damage to two of the three vehicles involved.

Drivers of the three vehicles were Shirley Newman, 24, of R.R. 1, Fenelon Falls; Frank Cheynoweth, 41, of Norland; and Paul Harrison, 17, of R.R. 2, Minden.

The Cobocok Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police report the Harrison vehicle was in tow by a tow-truck being driven by Cheynoweth when the Newman vehicle went out of control on a slippery portion of the road and came into collision with the Cheynoweth truck.

Shirley Newman, a driver of one of the vehicles, was treated for shock.

Ontario Provincial Police Constable Mike Ware of the Cobocok Detachment investigated.

Mrs. Doreen Stinson President Of The Hyland Crest Auxilliary

The Annual Meeting of the Hyland Crest Auxiliary was held on Monday, January 26, at the Hyland Crest Senior Citizens' Home in Minden. A good attendance was reported.

The new President for 1970-71, Mrs. Doreen Stinson, was in the chair.

A vote of thanks was given to the Past President, Mrs. Elsie Bursey, for her fine leadership, and in turn Mrs. Bursey thanked her Executive for the strong support they had given her during her two years in office.

The annual reports were given by the Secretary, Treasurer and by the various Convenors, with all showing a very active and rewarding year.

The officers for the years 1970-71 are as follows: President - Mrs. Doreen Stinson; 1st Vice-President - Mrs. Helen Johnson; 2nd Vice-President - Mr. Norman Gilmore; Secretary - Mr. Robert Krick; Treasurer - Mrs. Florence Dollo; Convenors - Tuck Shop (Mrs. Marg McKay), Craft (Mrs. Lorne Schmitt), Tea Parties (Mrs. E. Mason), Publicity (Mrs. Basil Hewitt).

The next meeting will be held on Monday, February 23, at 6:30 p.m. and it will take the form of a Pot Luck Supper.

Letters To The Editor

Haliburton, Ontario.
Mr. Berkeley Feir,
Haliburton County Echo,
Haliburton, Ontario.
Dear Sir:

In recent weeks the communication media has carried some considerable comment on the White Paper proposal for tax revision. In the selfishly materialistic fashion which seems to pervade modern business thinking, we have pondered many hours over what effect these proposals would have on our business.

The road to success (or profit, if you wish to use that word instead) is a rocky one indeed in our particular endeavour. We have received assistance in traversing this road — physical, tangible assistance, given without condition and in some cases at considerable risk to the benefactor. This assistance has come to us in the form of unceasing patronage by Haliburton residents (a clientele which, we were told when we started out, would yield few, if any, sales) and by lines of credit extended to us by other Haliburton businesses. The list of acknowledgements to those who have made our very survival possible would fill a page in this newspaper. It would be a list of familiar Haliburton names. All local help, received with heartfelt thanks.

Meanwhile, the Federal Government has not been sleeping (which fact will no doubt surprise you). It has put forth publicity for all to absorb, exhorting the struggling entrepreneur to avail himself of the great and wondrous programme of financing that is administered through its Area Development Agency (ADA). The Haliburton area has been hitherto held sacrosanct from being eligible for a similar scheme administered by the Provincial Government's Ontario Development Corporation. It is ineligible by virtue of the fact that it is a federally designated area for purposes of financial aid. And let's face it; what other troubles could we have if not financial? We therefore tried to subscribe to the ADA scheme. After weeks of negotiation involving costly time and travel, we emerged disillusioned, embittered, and more broke than ever. For in its true light, the ADA scheme as it applies to Haliburton is an unworkable, unbelievably cumbersome some farce, with nothing to offer but frustration. We relate these things only so that a comparison may be made; here is a community of people, all with troubles of their own, who take action using whatever resource they have, to help a business find a footing. And here is a government dangling a carrot that is forever out of reach.

In fairness, I should say that there is one Federal Government department that has shown considerable interest in Cedarway. This is the Excise Tax Department, which, in its parasitic pursuit of revenue, has twice sent a bespectacled young accountant to visit us. We call this young man INGLIS, after a well-known brand of washing machine wringer. He is partly human, partly mechanical; his brain having been manufactured at NCR and his heart having been quarried from granite. His task seems to be to probe and pry about our place of business for an hour or so looking for God knows what, and then toddle off up the hill to Gerald Dawson's office carrying a briefcase, (in which, we think, he keeps his manacles) there to pore over our ledger to see that we are dutifully remitting our tithe to his department coffers.

Hospital Fund Campaign Chairmen

And so, it can be seen that these experiences have given us cause to form an opinion as to

Mr. Ray McKinnon, Chairman of the Haliburton Hospital Building Fund, is happy to announce the following individual Area Campaign Chairmen for the upcoming Red Cross Hospital Fund Raising Campaign: Mrs. E. Hewitt - Stanhope, Mr. Chester Schwandt - Harcourt, Mr. John Hunter - Gooderham, Mr. Allen Bagg - Eagle Lake, Mrs. Violet Smith - West Guilford, Mrs. Russell Burk - Lochlin, Mr. Grant Rae - Haliburton. Chairmen responsible for Corporation Canvassing will be Mr. Ronald J. Curry and Mr. Glenn Austin.

At this week's regular meeting Mr. Stringer and Mr. Black, representatives from the Red Cross Society, will be on hand.

Minden Winter Carnival A Success

The Tenth Annual Minden Winter Carnival got off to a fine start with Minor Hockey, broomball and the choosing of the Carnival Queen and her Princesses. There were 17 entries, with the judges spending a good deal of time interviewing each one. The Carnival Queen was Christine Swanton and her two attendants were Dorinda Hewitt and Louise Pritchard who appeared at various times and met many of the visitors. The music was supplied by the Vic Carter Clown Band of Brampton, who also took time to entertain the residents of the Hyland Crest Senior Citizens' Home.

On Saturday the Parade featured floats and many in costumes as well as Mr. Hylander. The winners of the float entries were Minto Marine, Cox's Apparel and I.G.A., with the best for the girls being the School Parade and for the boys the Minden Mites hockey team.

The afternoon had the Opening Ceremonies with Shirley Brandon as Master of Ceremonies, and she introduced the Chairmen of the various Committees. This was followed by Figure Skating, arranged by guest skater Guy Gordon of Bobcaygeon and Marlene Sharpe of Lindsay.

There were numerous events going on all afternoon and the winners in the Beaver Skinning Contest were Hugh Austin for first and Roy Graham and Wilf Ackers for second. The Log Sawing Contest had Lloyd Cornell of Lindsay and Al Cooper of Minden as winners. The Ice Sculpture Contest winners were Harold Morgan Jr. and Dean Minto with first, while Tom Farmer was second and the Les Northey family third.

On Saturday morning Jam-Can

Curling had as winners Kirk Coneybeare (skip), Dick Stouffer, Paul Fleming and Chris Miles. Second place went to a rink skipped by Barry Ward, along with Scott Harrison and Junior Beene. Third was captured by Cath Campbell (skip), Mike Elder, Chris Coneybeare and Laurie Brown, while fourth spot went to Chris Pritchard (skip), John Welch and Robbie Young.

At various times broomball was played with the winning team being one from Beaverton. The winners in the Fish Derby were Clare Precor with a 5¼-pound trout, John D. Swann with a 4-pound trout, and Wayne Moxam with a 3¾-pound trout. There were various draws during the weekend with the Ski-Doo and Trailer being won by Glen Porter of Oshawa, the Carnival Doll going to Donald McElwain of Gelert, and the Chrysler Motor going to Stephen Payne of Minden.

Len Salvatori New Chairman Of County Board Of Education

At their first meeting of the new year the members of the Haliburton County Board of Education regretfully accepted the resignation of the Chairman, Mr. Keith Hill. Mr. Hill stated that it had indeed been a great honour to have been Chairman of the Board during its inaugural year, but felt that he should make room for someone else to gain the invaluable experience possible during the second year.

Mr. Leonard Salvatori, member for Dysart et al, was then elected to this position for the year 1970. Mr. Salvatori was a member of the Dysart School Board for six years and Chairman of that board for the last three years of its operation. He has also been Vice-Chairman of the present board for the past year. Mr. Salvatori is married to the former Betty Bush, and they have two children enrolled in the school system as well as one pre-school-aged child.

Mr. Norman Gilmore, member for Lutterworth, was elected to the position of Vice-Chairman for the year 1970. Mr. Gilmore has a son and a daughter attending the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School. He served on the Lutterworth School Board and upon its amalgamation with the Minden Board continued to represent that township as a Trustee.

Professional Development Day will be held on Friday, February 6, for all teachers in the County. The schools will be closed on that day. The teachers will meet in groups geared to their special interest, such as mathematics, science, special education, primary, etc., for related programmes.

Should it be necessary to close the schools in this County due to bad road conditions, etc., it will be announced on the Peterborough and Lindsay radio stations as early in the morning as possible.

Plans have now been completed for the addition to the Archie Stouffer Public School in Minden and the architects are now ready to advertise for tenders. Also, plans are being developed for the new Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School in Haliburton, and are nearing the Sketch Plan stage.

H.H.S.S. Bonspiel

This Saturday, February 7, the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Curling Club will be holding their Annual Mixed Bonspiel at the Haliburton Curling Club in Haliburton. Thisspiel is open to high school students only.

In keeping with the theme of developing junior curling, the bonspiel will be held not only to provide good sporting competition but also to foster the growth of high school curling.

Entries will be drawn from a large area with teams being present from Burlington, Dundas, Newmarket, Fenelon Falls, Bancroft, Tweed, Keene, Gravenhurst, Orillia, Bracebridge, C.F.B. Borden, Whitby, and Brockville. Plan to attend and watch junior curling at its best.

Red Cross Dance February 13th

The Annual Red Cross Valentine Dance will be held at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall in Haliburton on Friday, February 13, starting at 9:00 p.m. Music for the dance will be supplied by "Tom and his Cats", a very popular musical group.

A delicious buffet will also be served, with plenty of good prizes to be given away. The admission price is $10.00 per couple.

Proceeds from this dance will go towards the new Haliburton Hospital Fund, so plan now to attend.

Weather Report

We have just been informed that following the recent snowfall there is from one-and-a-half to two feet of snow and ice on cottage roofs in the Haliburton area. All cottagers would be well advised to have their cottage roofs shovelled off if they have not already done so.

On Wednesday morning the thermometer dipped to a cold 4° degrees below zero in some areas in Haliburton County.

Assault Charge

A Minden youth, Dennis Stamp, 18, has been charged with assault causing bodily harm following an altercation on the main street of Minden on Saturday at 6:00 p.m. Following the altercation, James McKay, 25, of Carnarvon was taken to Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay for observation.

Constable Ron Buchanan of the Minden Detachment of Ontario Provincial Police investigated.

Lucky Winner

Dennis Good was the first winner of a complete Snow Suit and Boots drawn for by the Boys' Athletic Association at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School.

Pictured above is Miss Alexandria Young of Lochlin who was chosen as the 1970 Haliburton Winter Carnival Queen on Friday, January 23. The Carnival Queen Contest, which was held at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, attracts great interest and a crowd of 350 were on hand to view this event. Her list of prizes included a cheque for $25.00, an engraved wrist-watch, Haliburton Tartan tam and clutch purse, dress shoe or casual shoe, and a coloured portrait. Other pictures of the Haliburton Winter Carnival appear on Page Five of this issue.

Open Branch Bank At Fenelon School

Students of the Fenelon Falls Secondary School will now be able to do their banking without leaving the school. A student-operated bank branch opened on Tuesday, January 20, at the school and will serve about 850 students.

The branch is the sixth to be opened in Ontario schools in co-operation with the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce. The first was opened at Westview Centennial Secondary School in Weston in September 1968.

E. S. Duffield, Regional General Manager, Ontario East and North Regions, said that the Bank hopes the branch activities will provide actual experience for the students and give them an insight into banking operations.

"We at the Commerce feel the knowledge gained by the students in operating this branch will be of great value to them when they enter the business community."

Douglas Murray, Commercial Director of the school, feels the students will gain by participating in the branch activities.

"We want to make banking a realistic venture in our accounting course", he said, "and we look forward to providing the students with more responsibility during their educational careers."

The branch operates for one-and-a-quarter hours each Tuesday and Friday and will be manned by Grade 10 students from the Business and Commercial Department and the Arts and Science program. Supervision of branch activities is supplied by the Fenelon Falls branch of the Bank.

Instrumental in bringing the branch into being were R. K. Sturgess, Principal of Fenelon Falls Secondary School; J. D. Murray; K. C. Hopper, Manager, of the Fenelon Falls Branch; and C. R. Corson, Marketing Manager for Ontario East and North Region of the Bank.

Uncle Dudley's Column

Tribute To Arthur Warner, Carpenter, Joiner

Last week all loyal Scots celebrated the birth of the Scottish bard Robert Burns.

In 1905 when I started my merchantile career by being employed at the Carnarvon General Store by the owner, G. P. Hart, I was surprised one cold morning when a large gaunt man (traditional muffer around his neck) entered the store and immediately broke out in verse, a portion of Burns — "Man was Made to Mourn". In a clear loud voice he sent the words resounding through the store: "Oh, man, while in your early years, How prodigal of time, Misspending all the precious hours, Thy glorious youthful prime; Alternate follows take the sway, Licentious passions burn, Which ten-fold force gives nature law, That man was made to mourn".

Hart replied by a short quotation from the greatest of Burns' works, "The Cotters' Saturday Night".

This over, Warner ordered a barrel of Christie stiffs; I was a bit mystified as a Christie stiff in that day was a headpiece worn by the men when they dressed up. With his Scotch humour he turned the phrase to his need of Christie Brown's sodas which he bought by the barrel.

This dour Scot was quite the unique character. He donated an acre of land to the Methodist Church for the erection of a place of worship, but I doubt if he ever entered the doors.

He was an excellent carpenter building his last home on Lot 14, Concession 1, Township of Stanhope, where his grandson Emery McKay still resides.

For insulation he had some hemlock logs cut from his bush and cut to one foot to 16 inches stock, placing this between the studs, leaving an air space each side — very effective. My wife and I spent six or eight months in this home in 1919 and found it very comfortable.

Four grandsons still reside here, Emery, Clayton and Arch McKay and Bert F. Harrison, and also five granddaughters in various points in Ontario.

Mr. Hart had been named in his will and when he inherited the business he inherited the office of executor of Mr. Warner's estate. One of the provisions was that he and his wife were to be buried in the small orchard west of his home. These directions, of course, were carried out.

A rugged, thoughtful individual, fairly well educated for his day, and an honest workman, he served the community well.

In closing to get back to Burns, in satire he lambasted a church Elder who was overly pious: "But Lord, remember me and mine, With mercies temporal and divine, That I for grace and gear may shine, Excelled by none; And all the glory shall be thine". Quite a high opinion of himself, eh, what. Amen. Amen.

Peace be with you!

How to keep the traffic moving when rush hour hits
the hot water.

Rush hour. Every family has one. When there are dishes to be washed, kids to be tubbed, Dad scrubbing up. Then Sis decides she has to have a shower. It takes a lot of hot water to keep the traffic moving.

That's why you need the Cascade electric water heater—the big producer. It's got the capacity a busy family needs, and it's economical, too. Cascade keeps you in hot water for only pennies a day. Ask your Hydro about the quiet, clean, electric Cascade water heater.

"The only deals we miss are the ones we don't know about"

Land Of Opportunity by Larry Perrott

(The following article was written five years ago when Audrey and I resided in North Bay. Now, of course, by choice, we live at "Perrott's Perch" in the Highlands of Haliburton and love it. This was published in a Dental Trade Journal in England by the parent company of the firm I am connected with in Toronto. I hope it will be of interest to some of your readers.)

Come with me on one of my trips in my Northern Ontario territory.

My name is Larry Perrott, sales representative for The National Refining Company of Toronto.

I reside 220 miles north from our office in Toronto (and 3,000 miles from Amalgamated Dental in London) in a city approximately 40,000, called North Bay — "The Gateway to the North" — situated on the shores of Lake Nipissing, (once used as a route by Samuel De Champlain).

North Bay is a friendly city with a varied background. On a very prominent railroad centre — this aspect has considerably diminished with the advent of the diesel engine. Presently, the city is the centre of a defence complex for North America, and has a missile base, a sage site and an excellent air base.

The trip we will take is my longest, and before I arrive back home I will have covered close to 2,000 miles. So that I spend as little productive time as possible on the road, I usually leave on this trip on Sunday. This way, I am able to get 300 miles on my way before I turn in for the night. Previous to this, of course the preparations which are more or less automatic with the travellers who work the north, might be interesting to those who cannot conceive the ruggedness of our country. In the trunk of my car, for winter travel, it is necessary to keep almost a survival kit. I do check to see if I have a snow shovel, an axe, a pail of sand, an extra fan belt, heavy overboots and a couple of blankets. Besides these items I will have my rifle and shells, and many small items such as a couple of large chocolate bars, a roll of toilet tissue, etc., to take care of any or all emergencies.

Having said good-bye to my wife Audrey, who of necessity has to be part of the selling team. We will leave North Bay on Sunday at 5 p.m. and head west, the objective being Sault Ste. Marie. There has been light snow falling all day so I have phoned the Provincial Police to get a road report. It was fairly favourable, so we are off, heading west on Highway 17, part of the Trans-Canada Route.

Eighty miles to the west I pass through Sudbury, where most of the free world's nickel is produced. The area surrounding Sudbury has an appearance resembling pictures of the moon's surface, treeless and dark-looking hills of rock. A hundred miles to the west of Sudbury I drive by the road leading to Elliott Lake, which five years ago had a population of 30,000 and was one of the world's leading uranium producing areas. To-day it is practically a ghost town of 5,000 with only one or two mines still in operation fulfilling contracts for possibly two more years.

Another 100 miles and I have arrived in Sault Ste. Marie, about 10:45 and most certainly ready to turn in after leaving a call for the morning at 5:45 a.m.

Sault Ste. Marie is called the Steel City because the Algoma Steel Co. is situated there. It is also the terminus of the Algoma Central Railway and is noted for its locks, which look after the difference in elevation between Lake Huron and Lake Superior. The shipping season here is usually between April and November, then because of ice it is necessary to close. Last year was the first for many years that Lake Superior was frozen completely over. It is of interest to note that the Soo locks handle more cargo tonnage in a year than the Suez, Panama and Kiel canals combined.

Monday a.m. after breakfast, I leave the "Soo" at about 7:00 a.m. to drive to my first call, 145 miles north at Wawa. If the weather is right I can make this trip in about two and a half hours. I have one dentist to call on here and after a coffee I am on my way again west sixty miles to White River. This is one of the coldest spots in Canada, where the temperature has dipped to 75 degrees below zero. There is no dentist here, so travel on to my next call sixty-five miles to the northwest in a small pulp and paper town — Marathon, situated on a picturesque bay of Lake Superior. The dental office here is rented equipped by the paper company. My next call is 60 miles to the west at Terrace Bay, another paper company town very prettily situated overlooking Lake Superior.

I have one more call to make at another paper town — Red Rock — before I arrive at the twin cities of Port Arthur and Fort William, commonly called here the Lakehead. It is a fairly large day to drive the 450 miles and my potential for business is four calls, if they are all there.

I have not elaborated on the weather conditions I sometimes encounter on this trip along the shore of Lake Superior. It has taken me two days to make the same trip because of snow, sleet, fog and ice, all of which can all happen in the same day.

I will work the Lakehead now until the weekend and leave here on the Sunday to work my way home on yet another route through the wilds of Northern Ontario.

To pinpoint the location of the Canadian Lakehead, it is at the extreme west end of Lake Superior and halfway between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. One of the Lakehead's main claims to fame is the size and extent of their grain elevators which handle most of Canada's wheat. Brought here by railroad, the grain is stored in the elevators for transfer to ships bound for anywhere in the world. To give an example of the size of these grain elevators, Saskatchewan Pool is the largest single grain elevator. It is approximately 1300 feet long, 220 feet high with a capacity of nine million bushels of grain. Other harbour facilities here include huge ore docks to handle the iron ore from the Steep Rock and Atikokan mines for shipment to steel mills in Cleveland, U.S.A. and Hamilton, Ontario. Also sharing the waterfront are four huge paper mills.

After having completed my dental calls in the Lakehead and spent a restful but lonely Saturday here, I am ready Sunday to start the return part of this Northern Ontario trip.

Geraldton will be my first call on Monday, so I will drive the 225 miles there on Sunday. My impression of Geraldton is merely a dreary gold mining town on a dreary expanse of muskeg and scrub trees. On Monday I have a doctor in Geraldton, Long Lac and Hearst Lefare; I arrive in Kapuskasing. Frankly, my opinion of this area is not too high.

It is desolate, fairly barren except for scrub timber and I have seen the snow ploughed ten to twelve feet high on each side of the road here to give the impression of driving these miles in a tunnel. This area abounds with moose and bear and they are often on the highway, so unless the trip at night is an absolute necessity, I will drive it in the daytime.

Kapuskasing is the model town of the north and the home of Spruce Falls Paper Co. There is a thirty car trainload of its products which leaves here daily — seven hundred tons of newsprint for the New York Times and other papers.

There are three dentists in Kapuskasing with one more coming next year, for a population of 10,000 in town and quite a large surrounding area population. I stay overnight in Kapuskasing and leave Tuesday for Cochrane, Iroquois Falls and into the Porcupine gold mining area of Timmins. A city of 30,000, this area this year has experienced another boom with the finding of a large ore body of copper and zinc. Some of the older gold mines are shutting down this year because of dwindling ore reserves, so the new strike has proved to be a godsend. After leaving Timmins, I drive 100 miles south to Kirkland Lake, another gold mining town where they too last year found a vast deposit of iron ore which will keep its economy on an even keel.

Leaving Kirkland Lake, I am now only 160 miles north of North Bay and will be glad to get home. There is only one more call at Haileybury on the shore of Lake Temiskaming which actually is the start of the Ottawa River. From there down I pass through Cobalt, an old mining town where silver and cobalt are mined. Then comes the Temagami Provincial Forest which in the summer is a tourist paradise with lakes and streams abundant with fish.

I am always glad to see our Bomarc missile base again as I am nearing home. Business-wise, sometimes I have a good trip and sometimes not so good, but there is always a feeling of accomplishment simply completing this journey without mishaps.

I hope you have enjoyed your trip with me through Northern Ontario, and that I have been able to convey some of the interesting highlights of some of the places upon which I call. If anyone reading this has the opportunity to drive this trip sometime I can guarantee they will see the most desolate, yet picturesque, coldest, yet sometimes the warmest, dreariest, and yet prettiest, colourful areas in the world.

OH, THE FRUSTRATION OF WORKING

I've been thinking seriously about giving up my job as a teacher, and settling for a lot less money and a lot more peace of mind. And I'm not the only one.

Colleagues, right and left, are unhappy. One would like to go into the hotel business. Another dreams of buying some rough land on Manitoulin Island, and raising sheep.

Others, who have been teaching a long time, are planning to quit soon and take a reduced pension, rather than battle it out to the full term. They can't face another five years of teaching apathetic, lazy and insolent kids.

Another friend, who has taught happily for 23 years, says he used to look forward to every day of it. This year, he admits, he faces each day with a sort of vague horror. Still another is socking every nickel he can spare into investments so that he can get out while he retains his sanity.

Had lunch the other day with a chap who this year, after some years of running his own business, came into teaching — in the technical department. On his own, he worked 10 or 12 hours a day. At this lunch period, he didn't stop talking for half an hour. From the outside, he thought teaching was a snap. The pay was good, and the holidays looked great. Now, he's exhausted at the end of a teaching day, though he's done no physical labour. He said: "I never knew there were kids like these."

Perhaps we sound like a bunch of old fogies who are getting tired. Most of those I've mentioned are in their 40s, not quite in the old-fogey class. And they've enjoyed their teaching for years.

But another colleague is talking about going to the Northwest Territories. Another is thinking of taking a job in a steel plant. His wife, also a teacher, wants to get out and do social work, at less money. They are all in their 20s.

All of us are making quite reasonable salaries. It would be quite a wrench, financially, to quit, especially for those who have roots in the community, a mortgage, and growing children to educate.

But the malaise is there. And it's difficult to put your finger on the trouble. Our wives are getting worried. They ask, "What is wrong, specifically?" And it's difficult to give an answer that doesn't sound trivial. It's a host of little things which add up to one word — frustration.

What is the trouble, then? I think there are two major sources. First, the pendulum has swung too far — from a system that was archaic to one with ned permissiveness. Everyone is supposed to do his own thing. Sad truth is that a majority of teenagers hasn't got a "thing" to do. They want to be entertained, not learn.

They'll sit happily through a movie at school, chewing gum. But try to get them to talk about it, express their ideas, relate it to their own lives, and they groan with boredom. They're mentally lazy, as most teenagers have always been. Their favourite comment on a thought-provoking, stimulating movie, is "Stoopid".

I've never believed in corporal punishment, either as a disciplinary deterrent or as a spur. But I'm beginning to wonder. I am hurt and alarmed at the increasing lack of courtesy, the "who cares?" attitude of the kids, and the increase in plain, dirty talk. (The language you can hear in a modern high school, especially among girls, would curdle your blood.)

You can imagine the joyous rapture of my wife to my proposal that I quit. Like the good little wife she is, she said she'd go anywhere with me, and do anything, as long as I was happy. She made up a great list of where and how we could save money, without the salary.

But the reaction has set in, and in 100 casual, little hints she is revealing the utter folly of it all. But I was prepared for that, and I'm going to keep her thinking about a shack, and a pot-bellied stove, and potatoes, and porridge for a while yet. It'll do her good.

WOULD SOMEONE PLEASE TELL THEM:-

- That we do passport pictures quickly
- That portraits take longer
- That spring and early summer weddings should be booked NOW

Novice Coach Bill Hartin is doing an excellent job with his team.

Haliburton Huskies Strengthen First Place Bid Over Weekend

The Haliburton Huskies of the Central Ontario Junior 'D' O.H.A. Hockey League solidified their chances for a first place finish this past weekend when they defeated Bancroft in Haliburton on Saturday night by an 8-7 score and travelled to Lakefield on Sunday defeating that club 5-2.

In Haliburton the Huskies waltzed through the first two-and-a-half periods in spotting the Bancroft Laundry's Jets a 5-1 lead by the 16-minute mark of the second period. The Huskies, with their backs to the wall, began a determined bid to overtake the visitors in the third period but even at the 10-minute mark of the final stanza the score was still 7-4 for Bancroft. It was at this point that the Huskies started their charge and within three minutes Brian Walter had scored twice and Paul Wilson and Gord Scheffee added singletons to give the local Huskies the 8-7 win. None of the 300 fans present had any hope that the Huskies would rally for the win, but this has happened before during the season; this is why Junior hockey is so exciting as the outcome of a game is never known until that final whistle. Craig Stamp, John Parish and Cam Botting were the other Haliburton marksmen.

Sunday night was a different story as the Haliburton Huskies trounced Lakefield soundly. Craig Stamp opened the scoring on a power play in the first period and they were never threatened from there on in. Bob Woodcock, Cam Botting, Darrell Stamp and Brian Walter added markers in the second period with Lakefield also counting their two goals in that stanza. Lewis Dummitt played a much steadier game than on the previous night as did the defence, and the forwards were skating very well and controlled the game with their diligent forechecking. There were numerous penalties with the Huskies collecting 14 of the 26 penalties handed out.

After the weekend games the Haliburton Huskies have a two-point lead over the Bobcaygeon Ti-Cats, with each team having four games left to play. The Huskies are after the first place birth and seem to be improving with each contest. The Huskies coach, George Nicholls, is hoping that the club will now hit its peak as the playoffs begin. This weekend it is do or die for the local club as they travel to Cannington on Friday night, play Schomberg here on Saturday night and then take another road trip to Bancroft on Sunday afternoon. The schedule winds up for the Huskies on Haliburton ice the next Saturday, February 14, with Cannington being the visitors. If the Huskies take first place they will play the fifth-place team in the league in either a two-out-of-three or a three-out-of-five series depending on how much time there is to finish the playoffs.

The Huskies are looking for added fan support for these last few games, and the spectators are welcome on the team bus. The fare is $1.00 return and the bus will leave for Cannington from the Arena at 6:30 p.m. sharp. Make sure also to attend on Saturday night when the Haliburton Huskies will battle the Schomberg club who beat the Huskies the last game in Schomberg.

BIRTHS

Charlie and Gloria Billings are pleased to announce the arrival of their first grandchild, Sandra Louise, born on Friday, January 30, 1970, 8 lbs., at St. Catharines, Ontario; first great grandchild for Leslie and Gladys Haas of West Seneca, N.Y., and first great grandchild for Mr. Fred C. Haas. Proud parents are Calvin and Helen Miller (nee Billings).

On a visit to Eagle Lake, a son, Derrick Vincent, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Don Ellis of Toronto; a nephew for Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bagg. Congratulations, Irene and Don.

CARD of THANKS

We would like to say a very sincere "thank you" to all those who helped in any way with the surprise House-warming given to us, and also thanks for all of the well chosen gifts we received. Everett and Marvis Burk.

Many thanks to Dr. H. E. Good and the Staff of the Red Cross Hospital for their kindness shown me during my stay. A special word of thanks to the Ambulance driver and assisting Nurse for their midnight trip to Toronto with our small baby boy. Thanks again. Irene Ellis.

I would like to express my thanks for cards, gifts, visits and telephone calls during my stay in hospital, and I would also like to thank Dave and Dorothy Stamp and the crew of the Minden Ambulance for help on the day of my accident. I would like to thank Dr. Koval, Dr. Service, Dr. Colterjohn and the Staff of the Surgical Floor of Ross Memorial Hospital for their care. Keith Kernohan.

CARD of THANKS

May I express my sincere thanks to friends and neighbours for cards and letters sent to me during my stay in hospital, and also thanks for the many kind deeds toward the family at home. Marion Tallman.

We, the family of the late Christie Anderson, wish to express our heartfelt appreciation for the many cards and floral tributes sent us during our recent sad bereavement in the loss of a loving husband and father. Lottie Anderson and Family, Oakwood, Ontario.

We would like to express our sincere gratitude to all friends, neighbours and relatives for their deeds of kindness, floral tributes and messages of sympathy given during our recent bereavement in the loss of a beloved mother, Elizabeth Fader. Thank you. Mr. Harold Little and Family.

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks and appreciation to our many friends, relatives and neighbours for the many kindnesses and sympathy shown us in our recent bereavement of the loss of a beloved wife and mother, Elsie Taylor. Hector and Dennis Taylor.

More words are inadequate to express my gratitude to each and everyone who has helped me through these days of sorrow with beautiful flowers, words of sympathy and deeds of kindness, and also to those who donated to the Heart Fund in my husband's memory. I say "thank you so much". Anne Wills.

IN MEMORIAM

BARRY - In loving memory of Robert Closs Barry, who passed away February 5, 1969.

This month comes with sad regret, It brings back a day we won't ever forget, You fell asleep without saying goodbye But our memories of you will never die. We miss you more than anyone knows, As each day passes the emptiness grows; The tears we shed we can wipe away, But the ache in our hearts will always stay. You left us suddenly, your thoughts unknown, But you left us memories we are proud to own. -Sadly missed and always remembered by Wife and Family.

CRUIKSHANKS - In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Francis (Maymie) Cruikshanks, who passed away February 11, 1962. 'Twas a cold day in February When we stood by an open grave, And watched them lower the one we loved And would have given ourselves to save; God gave us strength to meet it And courage to bear the blow, But what it meant to lose you, Mom, No one will ever know. -Lovingly remembered by the Family.

SCHROTER - Clifford, February 7, 1961. -Always, Emily and Candice.

CHURCH NEWS

LINDSAY PRESBYTERIAL U.C.W. ANNUAL MEETING

Just over 200 ladies attended the Annual Meeting of Lindsay Presbyterian U.C.W. in Beaverton United Church on Wednesday, January 28, 1970, with Mrs. G. H. Palmer of Fenelon Falls, Presbyterian President, conducting the meeting.

Miss Helen Furniss of Beaverton U.C.W. welcomed all present.

A recommendation regarding delegates to the Conference School for U.C.W. to be held at Camp Quin-Mo-Lac on September 12, 13 and 14, 1970, was discussed. It was carried that the Presbyterian pay expenses of six delegates, one from each Region, and also $5.00 toward expenses of others wishing to attend.

Mrs. John Coburn of Fenelon Falls, Presbyterian Treasurer, reported the full amount of $22,643.00 sent toward the Unified Budget of the United Church.

Mrs. Stanley Murray of Woodville paid tribute to Miss Olive Geach of Lindsay for her loyalty and dedication to the Presbyterian U.C.W. and presented a Life Membership and Pin, in her absence due to illness, to Mrs. E. Ruth who accepted it for Miss Geach.

Mrs. Gordon Gilson of Little Britain, Presbyterian Literature Secretary, gave a splendid resume of the fine books available for 1970.

Mrs. Edmund Ruth of Omemece introduced the guest speaker, Lieutenant Colonel Lindores of the Salvation Army, Toronto. He is Supervisor of the Army's Correctional Services. The topic of Lt. Col. Lindores' address was "The Problems of Youth". He told how the Salvation Army helps the first offenders in Court and the work in the House of Concord where probationers without homes are cared for. He said 92.7 percent who go into prison return to their own community. Are we, in the Church, always ready to re-accept them and give the mcourtesy and friendliness?

Mrs. Clarence Wright of Cannington U.C.W. invited the Presbyterial Annual Meeting to convene in the Cannington United Church next year.

Mrs. Deane Wellman of Omemece, Presbyterian Programme Chairman, gave an enthusiastic report of Camp Quin-Mo-Lac. There were 1,050 campers registered last summer. There will be a Senior Citizens' Camp for the first time in 1970.

A delicious luncheon was served in the Recreation Hall by the Beaverton U.C.W.

The afternoon session was opened by a fine Devotional presented by the Dalrymple U.C.W., led by Mrs. Garnet Stewart. The theme was "Our Purpose — Reconciliation And Our Response". We must apply the love in our hearts in a practical way.

Miss Vina Neal of Victoria Road, President of the Bay of Quinte Conference U.C.W., gave an informative report on a conference she recently attended on "Congregational Life And Work In The Church". We must study our faith and be ready for constructive change in our Church so we can truly WITNESS to the world.

Mrs. Ray Weldon of Lindsay paid tribute to Miss Vina Neal for her untiring efforts on behalf of the U.C.W. and the United Church.

Mrs. Ralph Chambers of Wilfred favoured us with inspirational solos, accompanying herself on the accordion.

A very profitable playette entitled "The Baker's Dozen" was presented by the Omemece U.C.W.

The report of the Nominating Committee was presented by Mrs. Richard Westaway of Cameron, and it was accepted.

Rev. A. J. Neal, Minister of Beaverton United Church, then installed the Lindsay Presbyterian U.C.W. Executive for 1970.

Mrs. Allen Bursey of R.R. 2, Minden, spoke briefly, thanking the members for the honour of being President of the Lindsay Presbyterian U.C.W. for 1970.

The Courtesy Report was read in unison and the Benediction was then pronounced by Rev. J. A. Neal.

Grace Lutheran Church In Oshawa Scene Of Maschke-Barnes Wedding

Grace Lutheran Church, Park Road, Oshawa, Ontario, was the scene of a pretty winter wedding on Saturday, January 17, 1970, when Barbara Anne Margaret, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Barnes of Carnarvon, Ontario, became the bride of Lloyd Leonard, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Maschke of Thickson's Point Road, R.R. 2, Whitby, Ontario.

The bride entered the Church on the arm of her father, wearing a floor-length gown of white silk crepe with small stand-up collar and fitted bodice; the full lace sleeves were gathered into deep five-button lilypoint cuffs. She carried a cascade of red rosebuds. The bride wore a small heirloom pin given to her grandmother by her grandfather on their wedding day in 1903.

Mrs. Joan Segers of Baltimore was matron of honour and Mrs. Janice Barnes of Carnarvon and Mrs. Vivien Roth of Taunton were bridesmaids. They were gowned alike in turquoise peau-de-broche floor-length dresses with matching fabric hair bows, and they carried cascades of pink carnations.

Mr. Bernard Roth acted as best man while Mr. Alan Barnes and Mr. Albert Maschke were the ushers.

The reception was held in the Piccadilly Room of the Hotel Genosha in Oshawa, where the bride's mother received the guests in an emerald green chiffon dress with full sleeves and jewelled cuffs and neckline, matching shoes and beige accessories, and a corsage of yellow rosebuds. The groom's mother assisted wearing a pink English crimpeline dress with mother of pearl sequinned lace trim, red velvet hat and black accessories, and a corsage of pink rosebuds. After a delicious turkey dinner the guests danced to the music of Art Denyke at the Hammond organ.

For their trip to points east for a winter holiday the bride chose a raspberry cut velvet dress with white ruffles at the neckline and cuffs and small matching velvet hat, black accessories, and a corsage of white carnations with red roses. She topped her outfit with a beige wool coat with small mink collar.

The happy couple will reside at Thickson's Point Road, Whitby, Ontario.

Mrs. Sydney Barnes held a Trousseau Tea at her home in Carnarvon on January 10 in honour of her daughter Barbara, and Mrs. Janice Barnes hosted a Miscellaneous Shower in the Christian Education Building in Carnarvon on December 13 for the bride-to-be. Mrs. Barbara McKay held a Kitchen Shower at her home in Carnarvon on December 26 for Miss Barnes, and she was also the guest of honour at a Miscellaneous Shower given by Mrs. Vivien Roth at her home in Taunton, Ontario.

OBITUARIES

MRS. MARGARET FOX

Mrs. Margaret Fox, daughter of the late Henry and Cecelia Harvey, entered into final rest at the Green Acres Nursing Home at Trenton, Ontario, on Sunday, January 18, 1970, after a lengthy illness.

Born at Gore's Landing, Ontario, on September 22, 1901, she came to Haliburton with her parents as a child and lived in the area for the remainder of her lifetime until illness necessitated constant professional care which was not available to her here.

Mrs. Fox is survived by her husband Albert at Tory Hill; two daughters, Elva (Mrs. Harry Bates) of Gooderham and Mabel of Smiths Falls; one son, Donald of Thorold; six grandchildren, Gayle (Mrs. Glen Billings, nee Bates), Patsy and Douglas Bates and Ruby, Kevin and Darlene Fox; two brothers, Fred of New-castle and Royal of Washington, D.C. She was predeceased by an infant daughter, one son Harry, her sister Fanny and brothers Clifford, Frank, Hampton and Kennard.

Mrs. Fox rested at the John Welch and Son Funeral Home in Minden until Tuesday, January 20, at 2:00 p.m. when Reverend Wesley Oake conducted the funeral service from the Chapel. Interment was made at Evergreen Cemetery Vault at Haliburton.

Pallbearers were David Ball, Clifford Smith, Wilfred Smith, Hubert Dunford, Murray Fox and Norman Lee.

CHRISTOPHER D. ANDERSON

Following an illness of ten days, Christopher David Anderson passed away at his home near Oakwood, Ontario, on Tuesday, January 20, 1970. He was in his 79th year.

He was born in Harburn Township, Haliburton County, on January 16, 1892, the son of the late David and Isobel Anderson. Mr. Anderson married Lottie Tinney on September 22, 1920, and resided on the farm west of Oakwood for 49 years.

A member of the Oakwood United Church, a Life Member of the Loyal Orange Lodge and a Life Member of the Oakwood Curling Club, he was always interested in community affairs.

Besides his wife, he is survived by three sons, Milton and John of Oakwood, and Lloyd of Saskatoon, Sask.; one daughter, Mary at home; 14 grandchildren and three great grandchildren; and two brothers, George and Rufus of Haliburton. Two sisters, Nettie and Bella, and one brother, Nelson, predeceased him. He was a devoted husband and father.

The Loyal Orange Lodge brethren assembled at the Funeral Chapel for service on Thursday evening.

The many floral tributes expressed the high esteem with which the deceased was held in the community.

The funeral service was held from the Stoddart Funeral Home in Lindsay on Friday, January 23, 1970. Reverend Preston C. Brown conducted the service. Interment was made in the Riverside Cemetery Vault, Lindsay, and later at the United Church Cemetery, Little Britain.

Pallbearers were friends and neighbours, Messrs. Cecil Barry, Sam Gorill, Vic Jewell, Morley Johnston, Lester Lake and Cecil Sheehy.

* * *

MRS. ELSIE TAYLOR

Mrs. Elsie Taylor entered into rest at the Civic Hospital in Peterborough on Friday, January 23, 1970, after a lengthy illness. She was in her 55th year, and had lived in Haliburton for about 34 years and in the district all her life.

Left to mourn her are her husband Hector and son Dennis, also two other sons and a daughter by a former marriage, namely Carl Kirkpatrick, Lyle Kirkpatrick and Evelyn Proudly; three sisters, Laura Harrison, Anne Miscoe, and May Davies; four brothers, Jim, Joe, Earnest and Harry Voicey; and also 10 grandchildren.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. N. McNeill and was from the John Welch and Son Funeral Home in Minden on January 26, 1970, with interment in the Evergreen Cemetery at Haliburton.

Pallbearers were nephews Elf Miscoe, Elvin Miscoe, Carl Miscoe, Petroe Miscoe, Carl Harrison and Willis Davies.

Returns From Trip To Trinidad

Some of the details of the holiday spent by Mrs. Chris Lazier in Trinidad are as follows: She left Malton on December 20 via Air Canada to Barbados and on to Port-au-Spain, which is 3,000 miles from here; She visited Mr. and Mrs. John Bumister and family (John is with the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce there as Assistant Branch Manager); During her stay of 21 days she took in many of the high spots, including the Limbo with temperatures ranging from 85 to 90 degrees.

The Bumisters are down there for a two-year term.

Mrs. Lazier found the people friendly and kind, and thought she preferred Trinidad to Jamaica where she visited five years ago.

If My people, which are called by My name shall humble themselves and pray, and seek My face, and turn from their wicked ways, then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land.

The Nation's Business

By WILLIAM C. SCOTT, M.P.

Last week the House of Commons concluded debate on second reading of the government's proposed Canada Water Act and sent it to committee for detailed study. Six days were taken up in discussing this measure in the House, one of the longest second-reading debates in a long time. In my estimation, long as the debate was, it was six days well spent.

When it was announced last October by the Minister Without Portfolio, Mr. Otto Lang, it was launched with a blare of public relations trumpets as a novel, comprehensive and strong measure that demonstrated the Federal government's resolute determination to attack and overcome pollution. In the period since this opening fanfare, the various provinces have had a chance to comment upon it and M.P.'s have been able to examine its details and discuss them at length.

The result has been that the proposed Canada Water Act is no longer being emphasized as an anti-pollution measure but rather as a water control measure. Energy, Mines and Resources Minister Joe Greene is now back and has taken over the responsibility for the Bill from Mr. Lang. But even the eloquence of this Ottawa Valley Lincoln has so far failed to make this piece of legislation any more attractive to those genuinely concerned with preservation of Canada's natural environment.

The main flaws in the Bill are that it fails entirely to define pollution of water, set any national standard of water purity or to lay out a standardized procedure or techniques in anti-pollution work. It notably fails to mention the critical question of financing of anti-pollution measures. All that the Bill, as it now stands, provides for is the setting up of various joint water control boards to operate in relation to restricted and specifically designated bodies of water.

There is nothing in it that will compel or permit the Federal government to take meaningful anti-pollution action in the vast areas of water in Canada that lie within the exclusive jurisdiction of the Ottawa government. It makes provision only for setting up a limited number of boards where the Federal and Provincial governments jointly decide action is necessary.

Even in the instances where such boards are set up, there is no mention of who will supply the necessary funds or on what area of the tax base the necessary levies will be made. This means that, before any control board is ever set up, there is bound to be a long hassle between the Federal, Provincial and Municipal authorities concerned. Where a division of cost is concerned, three-way negotiations are never rapid or easy.

The end result of introducing this weak and faulty legislation is that, while the Federal government fiddles, the natural environment — air, land and water — will continue to deteriorate from pollution, the degree of pollution will accelerate and the cost will soar almost as rapidly as the country's cost-of-living is still doing.

In my view, the Federal government should have brought in either a comprehensive bill or three separate bills, to cover the field of pollution of land, air and water on a national basis. They should have been tough bills. Pollution should have been defined and made an offence anywhere in Canada that it was committed and stiff penalties should have been provided to cover all types and conditions of pollution offences.

Pollution is a vicious and unrelenting foe. It affects all Canadians and all Canada. It does not stop short at provincial or municipal boundaries. It can only be met effectively on a national basis under the leadership and initiative of the national government.

In my estimation, almost worse than the legislation itself was the manner in which it was announced by Mr. Lang and his officials. They tried to create the impression that failure of the provinces to act against pollution had forced the Federal government to goad them. The provinces were pictured as unco-operative and slow; the Federal government as alert and responsible.

Anyone who knows the slightest bit about the pollution story in Ontario will know that almost 15 years ago determined and practical measures to combat pollution were taken by our Provincial government. First, under Premier Frost and subsequently under the direction of Premier Robarts, Ontario has been a continental leader in anti-pollution work. It is well to remember, too, that this vastly expensive work was borne by Ontario taxpayers alone and without much more than token help and co-operation from the Federal government. The Federal government have come in only at the 59th minute of the 11th hour.

The Ontario Water Resources Commission has done a tremendous job of assisting municipalities to solve their pollution problems by advancing low-cost capital that has provided sewage disposal and water filtration facilities to a great number of places that could not hope to launch such expensive projects without assistance. It has been estimated that, in the past 13 years or so, more than $3 billion have gone into this work.

No good end will be served by the Federal and Provincial authorities bickering over what each has done or not done in the past. The giant proportions of the pollution threat to our whole way of life, even our continued existence, is so urgent and so real that all Canadians must now work together to meet it.

Last week, in a speech at Moose Jaw, the Right Honourable J. G. Diefenbaker called for a series of teach-ins at Canadian universities and secondary schools to study the threat of pollution and to generate public enthusiasm for a crusade against it among young people.

Whether such an idea will work or not, I do not know. But I do know that, if pollution is to be overcome successfully, it is going to take something in the nature of a national crusade, fired by universal enthusiasm, to do it.

Uncle Dudley's Column

My congratulations to S. G. Nesbitt in his appointment to the Warden's chair of the Provisional County of Haliburton. The early 1970s will be a very interesting and critical time for rural areas in this province. The agitators for central government or area government, the usual name used, are extremely anxious to take away the personal contact found in the smaller townships. Truly, some change would be advantageous, but a breaking up of some areas would be little less than disastrous. This of course is my stand only; others are quite at liberty to think for themselves and arrive at their decision.

In your issue of December 11, 1969, of which I have retained a marked copy, there is a write-up of the beginnings of the Red Cross Services in this county. The name of Alfred Schofield, Children's Aid Inspector for the County for some years, was the prime instigator in this movement. He was a good man.

My first knowledge of Alfred Schofield was centred around the early thirties when I was a member of County Council, sitting as a representative for the Township of Minden. Mr. Schofield, as Inspector of the Children's Aid Society, made his report to Council and it showed an expenditure of some $1200.00 — as I remember it, covering the services to the entire county. I was a new member of Council and was not used to the 'thrust and parry' of heated debate. The old guard — Curry, Finlay, Welch, Lyle — were hot after him for such extravagance. Mr. Schofield was quite calm and handled himself extremely well. We had the problem of these children and they were human beings and they were going to be taken care of. All in all, he silenced the debate and the account passed with no change in its content.

Alfred Schofield carried on this work very ably for some years until the change in directive of the services and we were attached to the Victoria County Unit, paying a per diem rate for the services to our own children. The cost, as given for the last year of my attendance at Council in 1955, was between $7,000.00 and $8,000.00. I believe that at the present time we are attached with Peterborough also, making a larger unit.

With these changes Mr. Schofield's position ceased to exist and he was retired. This made little difference to his way of life as service was his watchword.

His later days were spent in the Victoria and Haliburton County Home at Lindsay, where his genial manner and helping hand still persisted. Any problem or any trouble, particularly those confined to a wheel-chair, were his especial concern, and as long as health permitted he still served.

He was a kindly, godly man and a regular in his church attendance, an abiding faith in his God and a constant reader of the Book.

This county was richer by his long and useful life of public service.

Peace be with you!

THE NATION'S BUSINESS

By WILLIAM C. SCOTT, M.P.

For two days last week, the House of Commons debated a government resolution proposing the establishment of a joint committee of both houses of Parliament to study the question of overhaul of our constitution. The committee will be set up and Canadians will be seeing it and hearing about it in their own areas as it will travel across the country in an attempt to stimulate wide public concern and interest and, hopefully, public participation by means of public hearings.

I hope the committee's proceedings will be more illuminating and interesting than was the debate in the House. The speeches on constitutional reform by leading figures from the Prime Minister on down were notable only for their tired generalities and their neglect of fundamental issues.

The best contributions came from the back-benches. Two of these speeches, at least, touched on what I believe to be the single most important question that must be dealt with before any other aspect of constitutional reform can be discussed. This question is the role of the Crown.

There are two facts that it is worthwhile to recall at this time in discussing the Sovereign in relation to Canada and her constitution. First, by virtue of Section 17 of the British North America Act, the reigning monarch is the very core of our chosen system of government. If anyone wants to get rid of the Crown in relation to Canada, they will first have to get rid of Section 17, which states - "There shall be one Parliament of Canada, consisting of the Queen, an Upper House styled the Senate, and the House of Commons".

The second fact is that the Queen is not merely, as in some countries, the Head of the Commonwealth. She is Queen of Canada.

There are many Canadians of all ethnic origins who cherish a strong, emotional, as well as constitutional, attachment to the Crown. I count myself among them. All of us who feel this way are appalled at the furtive, unconstitutional guerilla campaign that has been waged by a handful of determined men against the status of the Sovereign in Canadian affairs. What hardens this resentment is the conviction that this campaign has little or nothing to do with Canada's constitutional needs, but rests entirely on anti-British sentiment and hatred of the English people and English institutions.

This campaign, that has been going on for the past four or five years, has been stepped up recently and can be clearly perceived in the sentiments expressed by leading public figures, such as the Secretary of State, Mr. Gerard Pelletier. But it has, very cleverly, been kept behind the scenes and has been made up of the gradual accumulation of many small actions. These may appear unimportant in themselves, but their cumulative effect could well be disastrous to our system of parliamentary democracy, built around a hereditary and non-political monarch. This campaign has been carried on with as little publicity as possible by the simple device of by-passing Parliament and the constitution.

I believe the great majority of Canadians love and support the Monarchy. Yet this underground method of eroding the presence and influence of the Crown in Canadian life has kept the true situation hidden from many of them. They are unaware of what is going on. That is the chief reason I believe the time has come to drag the whole question out in the open - let it be discussed by all Canadians in all parts of Canada. The Crown is such a fundamental part of our constitutional set-up that it is unthinkable to me that we can discuss any meaningful reform of the constitution without first clearing up the question of the role of the Crown in Canada tomorrow. The question should be discussed openly and as widely as possible. This is the only way in which a true national consensus can be arrived at.

It is too bad that it is one of the vital constitutional issues that has, so far, been avoided by our national leaders in open debate. It has been left to the lowly back-benchers of Parliament, once again, to throw the spotlight on the issues that are truly crucial to our country's future.

If we are serious about discussing change, let us deal with this issue openly and honestly, not by deception and subterfuge.

Many Canadians may think differently than I do. But the other side should be presented in a forthright manner. I would welcome, as I know many other Canadians would welcome, an opportunity to debate the question.

Just so there will be no doubt about where I stand, my sentiments are, and will remain - "God Save The Queen!"

30 January, 1970.

We just received word that Mr. Gord Stiver had a snowmobile accident with a car and is in Lindsay Hospital.

A Place To Hang My Hat

As I sit here quite alone,
Thinking of all the things I own;
I come to one conclusion that
I need a place to hang my hat.

It can't be just a regular house,
That would never suit my spouse;
It can't be a house that was built in haste,

That would never suit my taste.

It can't be a mansion on a hill
Unless it's inherited through a will;

It can't be a shack with just one door

Unless it's the start of something more.

It should be a house that I can afford,
Built to last and blessed by the Lord;

A place for my family to live and grow,

A place for my friends to come and go.

It should be a house just for my wife

To live in content the rest of her life;

A place for a family tree to begin,

A place that was started without any sin.

A place for anyone who feels alone,

To be proud of the house that we might own;

And so in conclusion I say that
I need a place to hang my hat.

Saturday night saw the Minden Modern Belles against a team from Peterborough, with the final score unknown. The referees for the contest were William Scott and Gene Whitney. The National Hockey League have had no greater battles on the ice, as this was an entertaining part of the weekend.

There were many other events and on Sunday the Skydiving Exhibition was featured as the winds were too high on Saturday.

Altogether it was a very successful and entertaining weekend for young and old alike.

who is on our side. We do not take the position of adversaries to the Federal Taxation system, but we do regard it as a perennial pain in the perineum that requires some measure of resistance from time to time from the taxpayer. And here we get back to the original point regarding the White Paper. Our understanding is that if the White Paper is passed into legislation, one of its manifestations would be that we would have to pay one-half of any profit we made to the Federal Government. Are we mistaken in our interpretation? If not, is anyone else in the area concerned for his profit? It seems to us that if one-half the profit were to be forfeited, then it would leave only half as much reason to stay in business. Is that what the Federal Government wants?

We think it would be an appropriate time for the Chamber of Commerce to conduct a public forum on the subject so that some other opinion may be heard. A forum attended by official political representatives who could act on whatever resolution might arise therefrom. We would welcome any further comment in your newspaper from any source.

Respectfully,
George Pratt and Fred Pratt.
